Polishing

The purest materials, applied only by hand, give that "quality" appearance and "feel" that no cheaper methods can give to the discerning customer

A DYING CRAFT

Splitting cane by hand

British Industries Fair, March 2nd, 1939

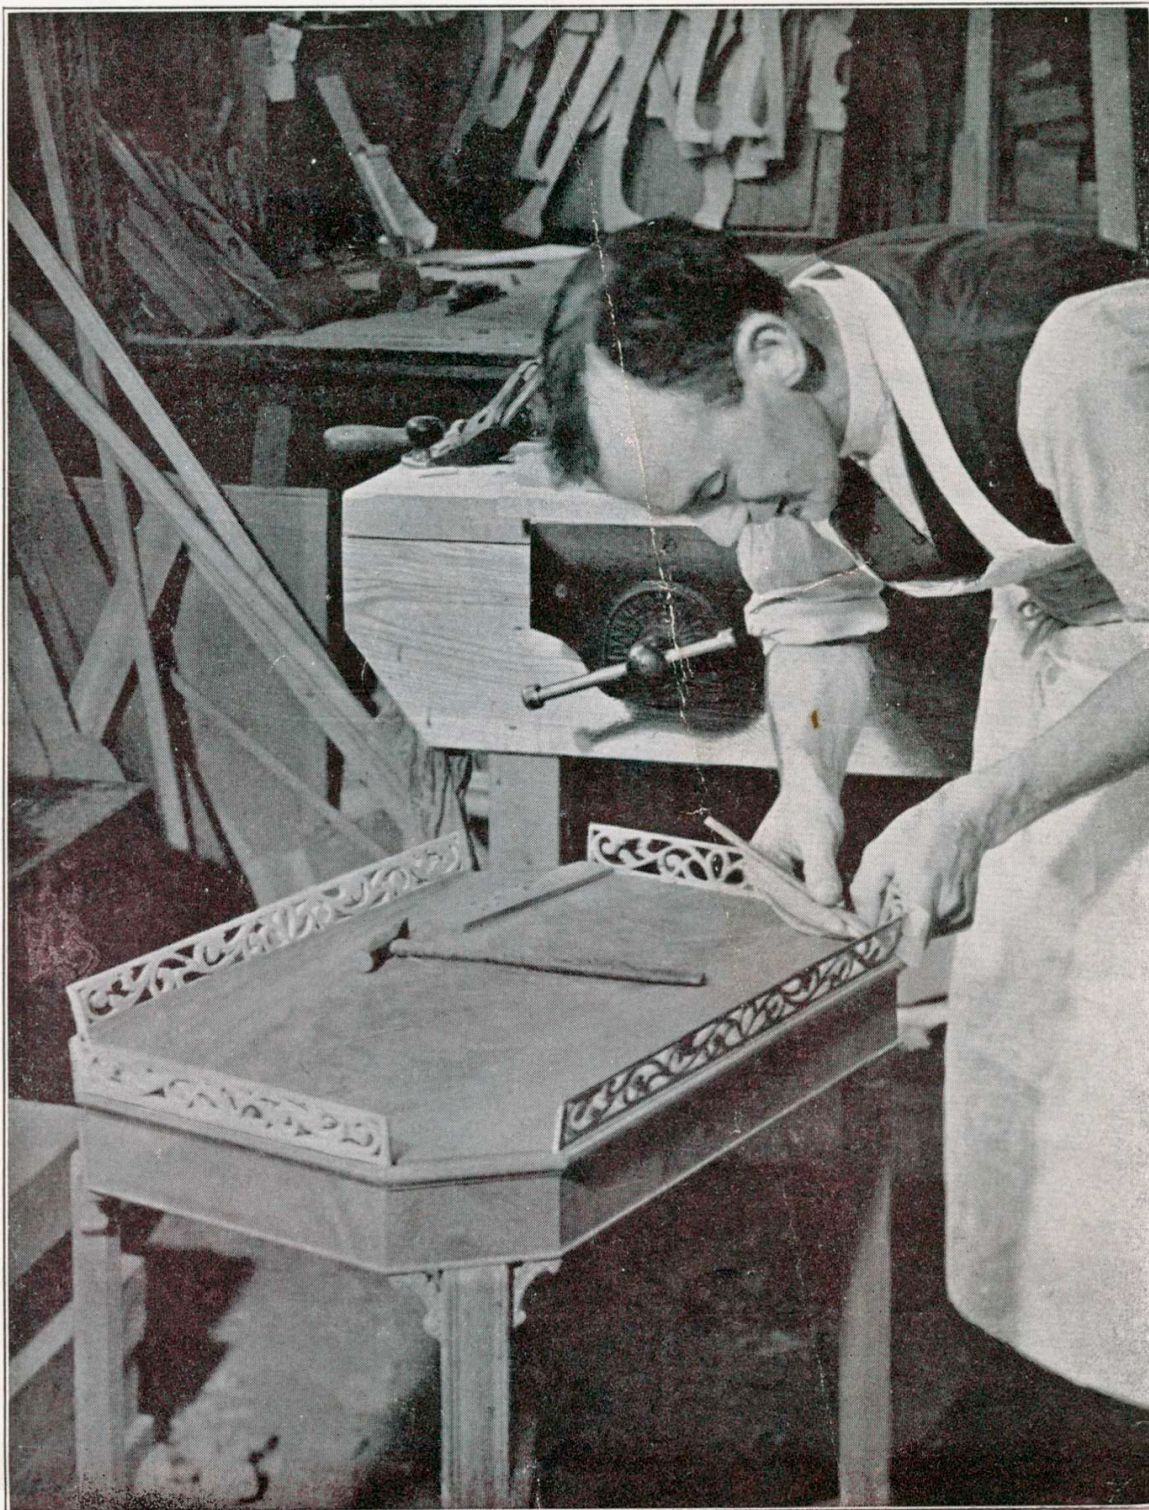

His Majesty, King George VI, watching one of the last of the hand cane-splitters at work on our stand

Chairmaking

Making chairs by hand of the type which could not be made by machinery

Cabinet-Making

Only highly-skilled craftsmen can be employed on this furniture

Upholstering

Exactly as the old craftsmens' methods, and with the finest materials

Veneering

Matching the "figure" of veneers and "laying" them with the best obtainable quality of materials

Carving

Minute attention to detail, accompanied by the skill of the artist, are essential for our quality of carving
